

“ The resources created account for the shame, fear, and stigma patients face when discussing costs during treatment.

Rosie Cunningham
COO,
Family Reach

They also address diagnosis-specific differences in financial barriers, insurance variations, and treatment planning. These insights allow oncology social workers to understand their patients' individual needs and provide resources accordingly.”